Recruiting Drive for Victory Workers Set To Open Monday

House-To-House Canvass, War Equipment Displays Included in Eight-Day Program.

Final preparations for launching an eight-day drive on Monday to recruit Victory Volunteer workers from Marion area were completed today and drive activities will start the first of the week.

In connection with the campaign, a three-way program has been mapped by officials of the War Manpower commission and Marion Industry Victory Council offering free films, a display of Army equipment and captured enemy material. A house-to-house canvass will be conducted to enlist aid of workers for war industries.

The exhibition will move to Marion over the week-end and be opened Monday noon to the public. Admission is free. The display will be in the Danner Buick garage on West Center street for four days from noon until 9 p. m. daily.

The display will include more than 100 items, exhibiting both Army issue and field drug and medical supplies, captured German machine parts, German and Japanese forms and German plane and field artillery pieces.

Equipment for both arctic and jungle fighting are shown and the German and Jap articles offer a clear conception of their tanks, guns, planes and clothing.

Four neighborhood shows have been planned and will be held each night starting Monday at 7:45 p. m. The first will be at Thomas Edison Jr. High, second at Vernon Heights Junior High, third at Central Junior High and the final at Silver Street school.

Approximately 16,500 tickets were distributed Thursday to industrial workers. Admission will be by ticket only and children under 16 years of age will not be admitted.

On Monday, approximately 300 block leaders will conduct a house-to-house survey enlisting all workers who are willing to accept war jobs. War workers are vitally needed in the Marion area and the leaders will request all who wish to alleviate the situation to sign the blanks which list individual qualifications. The blanks will be returned to sector leaders and later will be filled at the U. S. Employment office.

Letters Mailed

Some 5,500 letters were received today by Marion residents appealing to patriotic citizens to respond to the Victory Volunteer drive.

The letter gives detailed explanations concerning the vital need for workers in Marion area war industries. Any person between the ages of 16 and 70 years who is not employed or who is working in a non-essential job is requested to sign the franked card which is enclosed in the letter thus expressing his desire to aid in relieving the labor shortage in the community.

The applicants may arrange to work a split shift in a war plant in addition to handling his or her present job or may do light work that would release a more experienced man or women for war production.

Answers Wanted Now

All that residents are requested to do now is to express their willingness to assume a wartime job. Women who have previously been employed in factories in industrial work are needed. Leaders of the drive are especially interested in men in non-essential jobs, men now retired who are able to work, women who are not employed and high school students who can work outside of school hours and during vacation periods.

The office will contact the Victory Volunteers regarding jobs which are now open, but volunteers will not be obligated since applicants will be free to accept or reject any offer.

Many of the war industries have been seriously affected by the lack of labor. The drive is being conducted locally in the hope that state or federal help will not be needed.

Monday's Tin Can Collection Area

Tin cans prepared for salvage and placed at the curb will be collected next week. Monday's route will cover the area south of the Erie and N. Y. C. railroad tracks from Otley avenue west.

DRAFT INSTRUCTIONS SENT OHIO BOARDS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 13 — The 330 draft boards yesterday were instructed by Ohio Selective Service Director C. W. Hosbein to fill all calls for preinduction physical examinations in connection with registrants numbered 1 through 25.

He said the only persons to be examined in those age brackets will be those physically unfit, those having an occupational deferment or those deferred upon appeal by reason of the local boards.

The boards were advised to reopen classification of registrants numbered 26-29 to determine whether or not they are engaged in essential work, and therefore entitled to consideration for occupational deferment.

The boards also were instructed to reclassify Class 2-A men who are over 37, regularly engaged in maintenance of national health, safety or interest, or in class 2-B those engaged in war production.

He expressed belief boards would fill their quotas with registrants in the 18-25 class, plus volunteers, delinquents, registrants who leave agriculture with permission of local boards and those who do not qualify for occupational deferment in the 26-37 year class.

CENSOR BLOCKS TRANSMISSION OF TITO STORY

AP Interview with Partisan Leader Held Up; Political Reasons Charged.

By The Associated Press

An Associated Press dispatch, the first interview given the American press by the Yugoslav Partisan leader Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), has been stopped by censors of the Allied Mediterranean command at Algiers despite official assurances that political censorship would not be imposed in the Mediterranean theater. No reason has been given.

Representations have been made to the war department in Washington and authorities in London and directly to General Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean, but the dispatch, by AP Correspondent Joseph Morton, after 12 days consideration definitely has been refused clearance.

In Washington, the war department said it had no comment at this time because the situation is "manifestly a theater matter."

When Gen. Wilson took command in the Mediterranean theater in January he told correspondents he would continue Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's policy of no political censorship, saying "I hope you don't think I have brought all those Middle East rules over there with me. Here I see no reason for introduction of political censorship." Gen. Wilson has been commander in the Middle East, where Cairo has been noted as a center of censorship difficulties.

On May 4 Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press, telegraphed Gen. Wilson:

"Earnestly request your intervention in matter of release of Associated Press story written by Joseph Morton based on questions submitted to Marshal Tito but which censors under your command refuse to permit be sent to us.

"Edward Kennedy, chief of AP staff in Mediterranean, declares that suppression constitutes political censorship in spite of your assurances and those of British and American governments that political censorship would not be introduced in Mediterranean theater.

"If you feel unable to pass dispatch in question, we would like statement from you as to your reasons therefor which we can publish together without disclosure of imposition of political censorship in your theater. Assurances high regard."

Gen. Wilson has not replied and Kennedy telegraphed The Associated Press in New York last night (May 11) that Cooper's message was "apparently ignored." Kennedy further reported that he had "attempted full details regarding Tito story but censors prevent me from sending at this time."

Morton obtained his interview with Tito by submitting written question from Bari, Italy.

The Communist-trained guerrilla leader, whose forces often have clashed with those of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, war minister of the exiled Yugoslav government, sent back personally-written answers. The story, about 1,500 words, was sent April 30 to headquarters at Algiers for censorship and transmission, but there the censors stopped it.

Kennedy cabled May 3 that he regarded the affair as "a censorship scandal tenfimes more important than suppression of the Patton incident and if accepted by us can only lead to permanent allied political censorship in Europe and end all freedom in reporting political news from here." He appended a note that his message itself had been held up by the censors in Italy for six hours.

This is not the first clash between correspondents and censors in the Mediterranean theater, but Kennedy said "it is the most clearcut yet involving freedom of the press."

Daniel De Luce, Associated Press correspondent who went into Yugoslavia last September and got a first-hand account of the Yugoslav partisans' struggle against the Germans — a feat which contributed to his winning the 1943 Pulitzer prize for reporting of international affairs—had

AIR WAR—U. S. bombers strike Germany on Berlin area today. Heavy RAF bombers hit Nazi rail yards after U. S. aircraft had hit Nazis in day attack. Allied planes in 3,000 sorties in Reich meet 250 German fighters opposed to them.

BURMA—Gen. Stilwell launches [illegible] against Jap forces in Burma.

CHINA—Japs' success in new campaign aimed at Chungking threatens to knock China out of war before allies can establish beachheads on coast.

JAPS DRIVING ON CHUNGKING

Enemy Success Threatens To Knock China Out Before Allies Arrive.

By The Associated Press

Japan's huge-scale offensive in China, turning ominously in the direction of Chungking, dwarfed all other operations in the Asiatic-Pacific theater today.

Loyang, some 500 airline miles northeast of the wartime capital, was besieged from three sides. The Japanese cut the Lunghai railroad 18 miles east of Loyang, blocking a main retreat route for thousands of Chinese defending the city.

Another enemy force was within five miles of the north Honan rail junction, which is a gateway toward the mountain passes through which Chungking can be reached. A third force striking from the east was about 15 miles away.

Lushan Occupied

From the German radio came a "Shanghai report" that Lushan, 60 miles south of Loyang, had been occupied by the enemy.

Another Japanese force stabbed to within 10 or 12 miles of Sunghsien, 45 miles southwest—toward Chungking—of Loyang.

These offensives put the Japanese well below the Yellow river for the first time since 1938 and in position to gamble on knocking China out of the war before the allies can gain coastal China as a base for attacking Japan's home islands.

The Japanese were worried, however, foreseeing a probable American offensive sprung from the Aleutians. A Tokyo commentator said the Kurile islands were being prepared for such an onslaught.

Chinese dispatches said the Japanese-held island of Chinshan off the coast east of Fukien had been recaptured by the Chinese April 26 in a five-hour attack on the Japanese garrison.

Planes Support Troops

Indiana allied air forces gave strong support to British troops striving to wipe out Japanese lodged near Kohima, border city which guards a supply line to Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's troops in Burma.

Air forces in the Pacific widened the scope of their unrelenting assaults. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in the southwest Pacific, and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in the central Pacific, commenced a shuttle bombing of Truk with three strikes in four days from the Alternate theaters.

MacArthur also sent his fliers, for the first time, against Palau, Japanese sentinel protecting the Philippines.

Richwood Pilot Killed in Action

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, May 13—Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Wells of southwest of Richwood yesterday received a telegram from the war department giving official notice that their son, Lt. Travis D. Wells, 24, was killed in action Jan. 6 in the southwest Pacific area and expressed sympathy at their loss.

The son was reported missing in action the latter part of January. He was an Army Air Corps pilot.

The message read, "The Secretary of War desires to tender deep sympathy to you in the loss of your son, First Lt. Travis D. Wells, who was previously reported missing in action. A report now received states he was killed in action Jan. 6 in the southwest Pacific area. A letter follows." It was sent from the adjutant general's office in Washington, D. C.

Born Jan. 4, 1920, he was a graduate of the Richwood High school, enlisted in service March 25, 1942, and was inducted as an aviation cadet May 23. After receiving his pilot's wings Feb. 6 last year he left for overseas duty in March. He is survived besides his parents a brother in service, a sergeant mechanic in the air corps at Buckley Field, Col., and a brother who has been enrolled as a student at Ohio State university.

U. S. BOMBERS STRIKE DEEP INTO GERMANY

Nazi Radio Reports Penetrate Reich As Far As Berlin in Raids Today.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 13 (AP)—German broadcasts said strong American bomber formations thrust as far as the Berlin area and fought battles this afternoon in the 2,000th day of non-stop aerial offensive.

Mentioning the bombers officially for the first time in a communique, the German high command declared the "persistent and strong attacks by British-American bombers against occupied western territories may be regarded as preparatory to invasion."

Waves of medium and fighter aircraft began the new day's assaults behind the Atlantic wall in precision attacks at French rail centers—the same targets against which the RAF threw up to 750 bombers last night in raids on the Belgian railway cities of Louvain and Hasselt and other objectives in France and northwest Germany.

German broadcasts said today's bomber formation attacks developed into heavy air battles over north and northwestern Germany.

Nazis Lose 150 Fighters

Although it cost Hitler 150 of his frontline fighters trying to keep the Eighth air force off his synthetic oil factories in Germany yesterday, RAF crews said the Germans put up more night fighters last night than they had seen in some time.

Berlin claimed today's heavy formations were hit particularly hard over the Baltic coast with German fighters "inflicting serious losses."

The enemy's broadcast charts on the formations' progress said the bombers and their escorts came in over the Schleswig-Holstein area of the North sea and thrust as far as the Brandenburg area 60 miles west of Berlin.

The morning attacks on airfields and other military objectives in northern France and Belgium were made by Marauders and Havocs in considerable numbers, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters.

Fourteen of the possibly 750 British bombers dispatched last night failed to return—about the same loss suffered by forces of similar strength Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The daylight offensive was started a little later than usual in hazy early morning sunshine. RAF fighter squadrons followed by a more powerful bomber force droned over Folkestone toward the continent. American Thunderbolts were spotted among the departing planes.

The RAF night attack was a quick follow-up to a smash assault by 2,000 American bombers and fighters on five big Nazi synthetic oil plants.

The huge American sky-fleet yesterday smashed its way through great swarms of German fighters in one of the war's fiercest aerial battles to strike at four oil refineries in the Leipzig area and a fifth in Czecho-Slovakia.

The blows cost the attackers 42 bombers and 30 fighters, while 150 of Hitler's carefully hoarded fighters were shot down.

Another 1,000 British-based planes hammered at other anti-invasion targets as the Allies continued their ceaseless pounding of the continent in preparation for the coming assault by land troops.

SCIOTO COUNTY VOTE COUNT IS ACCURATE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 13—Special Investigator Jack Baxter said he would inform Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel today the Scioto county tabulation of Tuesday's primary balloting in the Republican gubernatorial race had been reported accurately.

Baxter returned last night from Portsmouth where he said he completed an investigation of vote counting at Hummel's request after Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert asked an inquiry to "prevent any irregularities."

Herbert lost the Republican gubernatorial nomination to Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati Tuesday in one of the state's closest primary contests.

Ben F. Stewart, Scioto county election board chairman, said that at conclusion of Baxter's check the count still stood 3734 votes for Stewart and 1599 for Herbert.

Hummel ordered all Scioto county ballots, poll books and other election matter impounded Thursday after receiving a letter from Herbert asking an inquiry.

Unofficial statewide figures showed Stewart's margin of victory to be 2,287 votes.

DEMOCRATIC DEFEAT URGED BY MOLEY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 13—Associate Editor Raymond Moley of Newsweek magazine advocates defeat of the Democratic party at the polls to restore "true party government."

The former assistant secretary of state, addressing the Ohio State Bar association's annual spring meeting last night, said:

"It may take a great defeat to bring the Democratic party back to the principle of group interdependence which it deserted in 1933, but, once that sort of major operation is necessary, let us not delay it too long."

Moley said America had reached the point where there is real danger in the continued dominance of a party "based on economic classes."

"What is more," he added, "we are in danger of the continuance of a political party in which effective power may be seized, before long, by political labor groups. This, I submit, is a grave turn of events."

He expressed belief the Democratic party of 1944 had its greatest strength in the cities and the south, and that Republicans' greatest power lay in what he termed "the middle ground."

"The early New Deal," he said, "was no more like the present philosophy of the Democratic party than Thomas Jefferson is like Paul Murray."

Moley said that for 11 years party authority had been sapped by centrally-controlled government patronage and that open revolt in the Democratic national committee had weakened it visibly.

He declared the country had seen the high officers of congress—the speaker and the majority leaders in both houses—serve not as officers of the houses that elected them, but as agents of the President.

"This," he asserted, "is the principle of executive leadership degenerating into the actuality of party dictatorship."

Moley described himself as a registered Democrat.

Tito Opens Offensive Against German Troops

By The Associated Press

NAPLES, May 11—(Delayed)—Yugoslav authorities announced today that the Partisan forces of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) had opened an all out offensive as part of an allied onslaught against Hitler's fortress Europe.

(Presumably this dispatch was delayed pending the opening of the allied offensive in Italy Thursday night.)

The Yugoslavs said troops of the army of liberation have opened attacks against the Vardar and Ibar valleys — the two main escape routes of German troops now in Greece.

Meanwhile Greek patriots were reported harassing four German divisions in that country.

EIGHTH ARMY CROSSES RIVER NEAR CASSINO

Allied Advances of Three Miles Reported in New All-Out Italian Campaign.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 13—American and French troops assaulting the Gustav line in Italy have captured three towns and numerous hilltop strongholds it was announced today, while Eighth army forces below Cassino are forming a bridgehead across the Rapido river.

Headquarters officially announced gains of a mile to a mile-and-a-half, while front dispatches reported advances of two to three miles at some points in the offensive on a 25-mile front from Cassino to the sea.

Fierce German counter-blows were beaten off in other sectors.

Americans of the Fifth army attacking in the Castelforte area 13 miles south of Cassino—seized Ventosa a mile to the west, hill positions nearby, and the town of Corvaro, a mile farther south, winning that village in a tank-supported thrust. A third village near Castelforte, San Sebastiano, also was captured.

Farther north, Frenchmen of the Fifth army captured 2,550-foot Monte Faito, a hinge of the Germans' first line defenses, about midway between Castelforte and San Ambrogio.

Below Cassino, the Eighth army had crossed the Rapido river and was forming a bridgehead against stern opposition, headquarters said.

The headquarters communique declared the initial assault had "driven in the enemy outpost line," and said heavy fighting continued.

Ventosa in the Garigliano sector was taken in severe fighting, and the Americans drove the Germans from strongpoints on Damiano hill and hill 316 west and southwest of Castelforte.

The capture of Ventosa disclosed the Americans had pushed ahead at least one and a half miles from the jumping off of the offensive in that area.

Other American troops advanced one mile and, with the support of tanks, rolled the Nazis from the town of Corvaro, a mile south of Damiano hill.

Crush Nazi's Attacks

In the lower Garigliano valley near the Tyrrhenian coast Americans slugged their way onto four hills, from which the Germans had commanded the lowlands approach route and then crushed two violent enemy counterattacks.

South of Cassino allied troops defied torrents of fire yesterday from well-prepared German positions to cross the Rapido river in the Liri valley with assault boats before dawn.

Bridges quickly were placed across despite the swift current of the Rapido while the assault force drove back enemy outposts.

An official allied report declared these troops "are forming the first bridgehead in close contact with the foremost defenses of the Gustav line in this sector. The buildup in this initial bridgehead is proceeding against stiff opposition."

The bridgehead was exposed to enfilade fire from enemy artillery concealed in numerous gullies and small valleys opening into the sides of the Liri valley.

The Germans also were employing great numbers of tanks, mortars and self-propelled guns in that area.

To the north of the American sector, the Fifth army's French troops in some of the day's bloodiest, close-quarter combat captured the 2,550-foot crest of Monte Faito and then moved on to the neighboring heights. The summit was a mile and a half ahead of the starting point of the offensive. After taking the mountain the French repulsed a very heavy enemy counterattack.

Village Captured

The village of San Sebastiano, a few hundred yards within the German lines, was captured in the early stages of the onslaught against Castelforte and the troops fought toward that town.

Grim struggles progressed both north and south of the battered ruins of Cassino but the Germans inside the town itself were left unmolested.

The Eighth army's achievement of gaining a bridgehead over the Rapido was matched by other Eighth army units north of Cassino which drove in enemy outposts in the rugged mountain area and advanced in the face of the most determined German defense.

Toughened veterans of the German first parachute division launched bloody counter-attacks as grim fighting raged in the hills northwest of Cassino.

A headquarters spokesman cautioned against any undue optimism over the initial gains.

PLANES BATTER NAZIS IN ITALY

Allied Aircraft Fly 3,000 Sorties in Day, Raise No Fighter Opposition.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Italy, May 13—The Italian arm of Reichmarshal Goering's once-vaunted air force lay dormant all day yesterday as allied aircraft flew out in nearly 3,000 sorties in support of the new allied ground offensive.

Not a single German fighter plane rose to challenge the raiders during the dawn to dusk attacks. One was sighted but it fled.

Despite bad weather, the allied bombers and fighters pounded communications, roads and air fields throughout Italy during the day in an intensified isolation campaign aimed at blocking supplies and reinforcements from the enemy's Gustav line.

Some medium and fighter-bombers blasted bridges, guns and enemy troops just behind the enemy lines while fighters maintained combat patrols.

Meanwhile heavy bombers struck as far north as Genoa.

From all the extensive operations, 18 allied planes failed to return, apparently victims of anti-aircraft fire.

In addition to the attempt to throw a blockade over the enemy's land supply lines allied airmen redoubled their punches at the axis sea arteries.

Harbors at Piombino and San Stefano were hit by American heavy bombers during the day and the targets suffered an attack from RAF Wellingtons during the night. The latter also bombed Portoferraio on Elba.

Mitchell attacked gun positions and enemy troops near Pastena while Baltimores brought back into action on the big day after a brief rest battered targets around Anzio. Spitfires in sweeps over the Yugoslav coast damaged four ships, two bridges, blasted a motor transport and a bivouac area.

Thunderbolts had a big day, cutting the main and alternate Florence-Rome railways at 28 places, destroying or damaging three bridges, an overpass, and shooting other railroads.

One special objective of the tactical air force operations during the day were high-ranking enemy officers. Their headquarters, command posts and bivouac areas were blasted and strafed in at least six different instances.

Rev. Howard Buckley Talks at Youth Rally

Rev. Howard Buckley of Columbus, formerly of Marion, was speaker for the Evangelical Youth Rally of Marion district held at Upper Sandusky Friday night. Rev. Buckley stressed the thought that youth provides the best evangelists for youth and that young people under 21 years of age are the most likely to accept Christ while only one out of 500 young people over 21 years old will become a Christian. Rev. E. L. Dietzel of Bucyrus presented the discussed plans for the new Evangelical Youth Fellowship. The rally closed with a recreation period and a booster for Limwood Summer Assembly to be held July 9 to 16 for young people and adults.

Behold Thy Mother

A Sermonette
BY DR. S. M. INGMIRE
Pastor of Epworth Methodist Church

* * *

John 19:27 — "Behind thy mother."

TOMORROW most of the churches will observe Mother's Day in some type of special service. It is well that we tenderly do what Jesus said the beloved disciple to do, namely, "Behold thy mother."

The supreme Moment of the idea of God has passed through that period of history when they thought of a Mother God. Yet Jesus came to show us what God was like and He said when you pray say "Our Father". There are at least two words that reach the ultimate in the philosopher's world. They are, Father and Mother. These two words have in them all that is good, beautiful and true.

There are Mothers who feel that because they are confined to the small world of homemaking that they are not as important as some career women. Yet the Mother of the Son of God counted it a great honor just to be a real mother. The scripture states that when she was apprised of the fact that she was to bear a son who would be the Saviour of the world she cherished the fact that she could be a mother. I often have wondered what would have happened if she had been too busy or had desired a career instead of the roll of mother.

In this day of much juvenile delinquency we need to think and plan for the coming generation as well as the present. We need to start now to plan for the kind of mothers and children that the world will have for several generations ahead. To do this we must see that the children of the present generation have a [illegible] motherhood and [illegible] try to preserve the [illegible] duties of good mothers.

This can be [illegible] showing our appreciation [illegible] she is living. [illegible] home flowers while [illegible] can see them and write [illegible] while she can [illegible] Too often the flowers [illegible] casket are but weak [illegible] of the neglect to show appreciation to the living.

If your mother is living [illegible] not show her tomorrow [illegible] appreciate her sacrifices, either by recognizing her in some special way? If she has departed this life then why not [illegible] prayer to God that you will never betray her hopes [illegible] and that you will do your best to meet her in the great beyond.

One of our retired ministers by the name of Dr. T. W. Swenden expresses in poetry the great importance of just having a good mother in the following lines:

You painted no Madonnas
On chapel walls in Rome
But with a touch divine
Upon the walls of home

You wrote no lofty poems
The world pronounces art,
But with a nobler genius,
You put poems in my heart.

You carved no shapeless marble
To symmetry divine,
But with a finer sculpture,
You shaped this soul of mine.

Had I the gift of Raphael,
Or Michael Angelo,
Ah, what a rare Madonna
My mother's life should show

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 13—All priestly privileges for Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski were taken away from him today by his ordinary superior, Bishop Thomas H. O'Leary, a few hours after the Polish-American clergyman returned from a visit to Marshal Josef Stalin in Moscow.

Rev. George J. Shea, chancellor of the Springfield diocese who made the announcement, said Bishop O'Leary had pronounced canonical penalties on Fr. Orlemanski which would prohibit him from celebrating mass or performing any divine office for an indefinite period. He will not be permitted to administer any of the sacraments of the church, Fr. Shea added, nor will he be allowed to remain in his parish or make any public appearances.

Shortly before the suspension notice was served on him, Fr. Orlemanski said he went to Moscow to tell Marshal Stalin that he wanted the establishment of "an American system in Poland."

HOG SHIPMENTS GLUT MAJOR U. S. MARKETS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 13—The surplus supply of swine running off farms has grown to huge proportions during the past week, with an old stock piling up on packing house floors and a very sharp market decline in progress.

Markets throughout the corn belt, where normally do not be overburdened of hogs, have been swamped all week and embargoes and partial packing have been necessary at many points. Meanwhile aggregate receipts have not reached the all time high of last winter, observers said the situation in some respects is more acute than at that time. # Questions Answered on New Selective Service Regulations

[illegible] May 13—Here [illegible] some of the ques- [illegible] may bother draft [illegible] and over:

[illegible] local draft board [illegible] the new policies [illegible] Saturday?

[illegible] headquarters be- [illegible] boards, by and [illegible] prompt to carry out [illegible] laid down.

[illegible] mean that no men [illegible] essential industries [illegible] until further [illegible]

[illegible] thing, yes. But [illegible] may decide that [illegible] erator in a war [illegible] most is doing work [illegible] men are available. [illegible] Besides this man is [illegible] all he could to [illegible] it can refuse him [illegible]

[illegible] board can draft men [illegible] If it still has not [illegible] men under 26? [illegible] this would be the [illegible], not the rule. [illegible] rule, however, that [illegible] 30 doing useful [illegible] industries were [illegible] are being drafted [illegible] of the "stay" ordered [illegible]

[illegible] directive is intend- [illegible] that.

[illegible] board do if it [illegible] men under 26, ex- [illegible] 26-29 group of non- [illegible] men, and has no 30-38 [illegible] essential industries [illegible] to draw?

[illegible] board should let the [illegible] call ride; that is, fail to deliver its quota for that month.

Q. What should an essential employer do if a deferment for an over-30 employe is turned down.

A. Selective Service Director Hershey advises that an appeal be filed.

Q. In some cases which have developed in recent weeks, the appeal period has expired.

A. You can appeal whenever there is a new fact to be considered. These regulations are a new fact.

Q. What if a man is already accepted—that is, has passed his physical examination—but has not yet been inducted.

A. He is in no less favorable position. Selective service has directed that these cases be reopened immediately.

Q. There is always a time-lag between the forming of policies and placing them in effect. Will some men be caught?

A. There will be some injustices and discrimination, inevitably.

Q. Local boards have been directed to review the cases of all men in the 26-29 and 30-37 groups who have been classed 1-A, and to defer those who meet the new requirements. Will this reclassification be automatic, or should the employer file a deferment application?

A. To make sure, the employer should file at once for every man he wants deferred who is over 30 and who has been class 1-A.

Q. What should the registrant himself do?

A. The 30-or-over registrant should make sure that his local board is aware of his status. If he is in 1-A, and in essential work, he should notify his board he should be in 2-A or 2-B.

Q. Local boards are now authorized to grant deferments in industries not mentioned on the official war manpower list of essential activities. Could a board defer a professional ball player?

A. A board has that power, if it decides baseball is an activity "in support of the national health, safety or interest."

Q. Is a board likely to defer a ball player?

A. No. Boards which are sending fathers to war are not likely to let ball players go on playing ball. It is up to board's sense of responsibility.

Q. Could a lawyer get a deferment?

A. This also is up to the board, and might depend on how many lawyers there are in his community.

Marion Wac's Picture Appears in Magazine

Pfc. Landon wrote several months ago and told her parents of the pictures being taken, asking them to watch the various magazines. The picture was one of three accompanying an article written by an Army sergeant with the Fifth Army in Italy who "examines the life and habits of the female soldier and finds much of which he can approve."

Pfc. Landon enlisted May 17, 1943 and received training at Ft. Devons, Mass., and Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga. She was ordered overseas Nov. 1 and was stationed as stenographer with the supply office of the Signal Corps in Italy. Prior to her enlistment she was employed with Williamson and Williamson, attorneys.

A sister, Pfc. Thelma Ford, is stationed with the Marines in Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES
O. S. U. Extension Floriculturist

Q.: What evergreens would you suggest before a brick wall, very hot in summer? Would like a pyramided type on each corner and a low type beside the steps. Could only use four. The sun parlor is 35 feet across and a very narrow lawn and terrace to sidewalk. Do not wish anything tall as space is too narrow. The brick wall is also hot in summer. Would you plant Daphne Cneorum as border?

A.: If you wish to use an upright type of evergreen I would recommend one of the upright growing varieties of yew such as, Hicks, Hatfield, or Columnaris. You will find that the yews can take considerable sun without damage. For a low evergreen that will take hot sun, you might use the Mugho pine, being careful to select one that is very slow growing since this would stay within bounds with a minimum effort on your part. If you are not cramped too much for space another low evergreen that would be very satisfactory would be a creeping juniper such as the Andorra or Sargents.

I would not recommend the use of Daphne Cneorum as a border plant since the experience of most folks is that it lasts but a year or two at the most. In its place I would suggest using Euonymus vegetus which can be sheared into a small compact plant. Another excellent plant, if you are willing to go to a little extra trouble and make the soil about half peat and half soil before planting it, is the Pachistima. This plant grows wild in high mountains of southern West Virginia and is a very lovely little evergreen that will never get more than a foot or fifteen inches in height.

"WORKPILE" PROGRAM

Homeowners should adopt a "workpile plan" as an essential feature in providing employment after the war, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau suggests. Virtually every home needs repairs, additions, or improvements such as an extra bathroom, or the replacement of outmoded fixtures, a new kitchen sink with cabinets, or a new heating plant. Planning today for improvements to be made after Victory will help provide employment and maintain the national economy.

Building Quiz

Q.: Some acid was spilled on our new inlaid linoleum, and now there is a brown stain which washing does not remove. What can I do? The spot is in a conspicuous place in the center of the room.

A.: You might first try to remove the stain by rubbing with fine steel wool and the thick suds of a mild soap. If this fails, ask your linoleum layer to take out the damaged area and replace it with a linoleum patch of a similar pattern. As the linoleum is new, it is very likely that your dealer still has a piece left that could be used. The piece could be inserted so neatly that it will not show, and the cost of the job should be trifling. If you wish to make the inlay yourself, this is the way to do it: lay the new piece on the floor, with the pattern matching, and cut through this and also through the old linoleum with a sharp knife or a special tool for cutting linoleum. Take out the damaged piece and fit the new piece into the hole that has been left. Scrape the old cement from the wood flooring and cement the new piece in place. Use linoleum cement or casein glue.

Q.: Our home is all on one floor and storm sashes are on every window including cellar and attic. Every window is covered with the moisture on the inside. The humidifier on the furnace is shut off. What can you recommend?

A.: If the inside glass steams up, this would seem to indicate that your storm windows fit loosely and the cold air leaks through, chilling the inside glass. Storm sash should fit snugly to keep the air between the two sash from becoming chilled. Weatherstripping of storm windows may help.

The New Secretary

APPOINTMENT of James V. Forrestal to succeed the late Frank Knox as secretary of the Navy probably as popular an appointment as President Roosevelt has made in any of his three administrations. In Washington Democrats and Republicans alike applauded the selection.

Mr. Forrestal won the promotion for outstanding service in helping Mr. Knox build the largest navy in the world in an unbelievably short time. He has been a worker and not a talker, which is something the public likes, and he has kept himself free from Washington squabbles.

He learned the fundamentals of navy service the hard way for he entered the first World war as a seaman and came out as an ensign.

Before this country entered the war he was one of the first to recognize the need of a powerful navy and to do something about it. He has been Secretary Knox's right hand man in providing the ships and the men to run them and to him belongs a lot of the credit for what the American sea forces have been doing to the Japanese in the Pacific.

Some of the popularity of his appointment may be due to the fact that he is listed as a Democrat, although he has not worked very much at this side of his life. There are some things to be said in favor of a bi-partisan government in wartime but the idea does not sit well with the politicians.

Mr. Forrestal takes office under auspicious surroundings and with practically unanimous good wishes of these United States which look to him to carry forward the work so successfully started.

A Dollar's Worth

THE consumer price level after the war will be from one-third to one-half higher than it was in 1940, predicts Frank D. Newbury, vice president in charge of emergency products for Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. He points out that when refrigerators and automobiles can be manufactured again, the same models that could have been bought for, say, $200 and $800 in 1940 will cost perhaps as much as $300 and $1,200.

This will have been brought about, of course, by the high wage scales that came into existence during the war, on the assumption they will remain high when the war is over. Thus, a wage earner planning to buy one of the $1,200 cars will have to divert the net increase in his dollar income to the net increase in the dollar value of the things he buys. Ultimately to complete the adjustment, the prices of services would have to be increased correspondingly. There would be an up-scaling of everything to establish an equitable ratio of purchasing power and prices. A 1940 dollar's worth would be 50 cents' worth. The economic phenomenon entailed is as old as the hills, but it can be depended on to be gazed upon as a brand new discovery when it happens—and some millions of wage earners will be wondering why, when they are earning so much more, they don't have buying power to match.

The No Strike Pledge

RENEWAL of the United Steelworkers' no strike pledge at their Cleveland convention is a heartening demonstration of the fact that labor, on the whole, has put its brawn, its brains and its heart into the winning of the war.

The pledge has not ended strikes among the various groups which have adopted it as a union policy for the duration but it has helped greatly in minimizing them. Most of the work stoppages have been of the "wildcat" kind, called by local groups of workers and often against the advice of their leaders. In many cases, responsible union heads have done valuable work in getting the men back on their jobs after these sporadic outbreaks.

The moral effect of the pledge is important. Hotheads who call walkouts are striking not only against their employer and their country but against their own labor union as well. Usually their lack of support outside their own group and as a consequence most of these strikes have been of short duration.

The original no strike pledge was made at the beginning of the war when all America was swept by a wave of patriotism and "win the war" spirit. Voluntary renewal after more than two years of serious thought and experience is a demonstration that responsible labor men still consider Victory their most important job.

Unwise Taxes Kill Jobs

By Eric A. Johnson

THE proverb has it that nothing is certain but death and taxes. So far as the capital system is concerned, unhappily, the two certainties are tending to merge.

This does not mean, of course, that Americans are ultimately going to put out of its misery as quickly as possible. But for the rest of our nation, taxes that kill business would be extremely alarming if only people understood the process more clearly.

I am not an expert on taxation. I claim only to be an expert on sports on pre-making, but like every businessman, I must constantly wrestle with problems of taxation.

I have found a way of bringing men, money and certain materials together. I know that my best chance of making more profit for myself and my stockholders is to expand my employment, production and sales. The way is to get enough production out of my plants to compete with others in the same field and with other products bidding for the public's expendable income—on a price and quality basis.

As a businessman, my views on taxation are based almost entirely on what a good tax program or policy does to my function of job-making. I am not seeking larger opportunities for people to get work, but larger inducements for men to get ahead by making those improvements, technological changes and marketing advances which provide more work for American workers. I favor a tax program which fortifies the middle class society, with fewer at the extreme top and fewer at the extreme bottom.

OUR revenue system is archaic haphazard, almost an accidental accumulation of imposts. One tax after another has been added on a piecemeal basis as the government needed new revenues.

The process of expanding taxes and making them more sharply progressive has gone on at an ever accelerated tempo. Watching the process I have been reminded of the prizefighter who was pretty good with his fists but a little weak in the head. Having gotten himself involved with several managers, he ended in court, where it appeared that he contracted to give away 135 per cent of his earnings.

The tax system is to blame that existing businesses are in danger or succumbing to the first spell of bad economic health. Like a person without enough reserve vitality, they simply "can't take it." A year or two of bad luck or bad conditions which they could weather with a store of capital vitality to draw upon may kill them off if such reserves have not been built up. That danger can obviously be translated into the language of jobs.

Unless business is permitted to plow back its profits and maintain capital reserves, infant mortality among newly born companies must rise. The only thing that will keep the mortality figure down is that so few will get born at all.

Big firms with established credit, well defined markets and good financial connections can survive unfavorable periods. But the small business—and in particular the newly established company—has none of the survival advantages. This is the phase of the picture that the American public has not yet grasped. We cannot soak the rich indiscriminately without soaking the whole economic system that makes the accumulation of wealth possible.

ASSUME that the present tax rates had been in effect at the turn of the century when the motor car industry was making its first tentative steps. It was a new industry, still under a cloud of skepticism and even ridicule. Only men of vision, with adventure in their blood and faith in their hearts, entered it.

They took their losses and disappointments year after year. They scraped together capital among their friends. When profits appeared they plowed them back into their business. In time they prospered and America prospered with them. But had the present tax system been in effect this adventure could never have gotten under way. There would have been nothing to plow under but withered hopes.

The smooth working of the private enterprise system calls for a large and ever increasing supply of capital. It has been estimated that an average of $5,000 is needed to provide a single job. If this capital is not allowed to accumulate, if the government drains it off, no job-creating funds will be available, except in the government's hands. Taxes that dry up the sources of savings, that forbid the gathering of capital profit are a more direct assault on free capitalist economy than any socialist or communist propaganda.

It is not pleasant to observe that confiscatory taxation has been pushed by the same kind of people who hate the American system as unjust and therefore finished. Such taxes serve to discredit business, at its present stage—but that is hardly a matter of concern to people thoroughly convinced that it cannot move much further anyhow.

WITH a more widespread popular awareness of the new and greater horizons of economic opportunity opening up for our people in the post-war years, there should come also a revulsion against the present confused, excessive and often punitive tax policies.

Our present system pyramids its inequities by taxing business doubly—first in absorbing profits at the source in the business firm, then in taxing the income that reaches the individual stockholder. This duplication is frequently quadrupled by state taxes which likewise take two bites out of the income.

There is no denying that a certain feeling for "social justice," complicated by a less pretty but even more effective desire for "social vengeance," plays a part in our tax system. Its greatest weight, seemingly, though not always actually, is piled on a group that is numerically small and hence politically weak. Those with $2,000 or $5,000 incomes have a lot more votes than the minority which would have been affected by the $25,000 wage ceiling.

Equity of income is an attractive political slogan. It has the surface sheen of justice. Fewer Americans would fall for it if they realized that its ultimate effect is to dry up the sources of all income, equal or otherwise.

JUST as soon as we recognize the terrific power for destruction residing in taxation, we become aware, also, of no less terrific power for construction. Curbing and reforming the present tax system to remove barriers to investment and to wholesome business enterprise is essential. But that is only the negative phase. There is a positive aspect.

We can use taxation as a tool for creative economic achievements. It can be deliberately planned to make jobs, to coax savings and other capital into the active stream of productive investment to help small business extend itself.

I believe there should be special tax concessions for new enterprise for a limited number of years and special tax treatment for capital invested in plant expansion and other job-making efforts.

Taxation in the recent past has been applied as a weapon of class struggle and class cleavage. It can be applied no less effectively to cement social relations and to head off industrial strife. Tax policies in recent years have sapped the vitality of American capitalism. They can be reformed to act as a stimulus and tonic to that capitalism.

Instead of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs, we shall do better to try to hatch more geese who can lay golden eggs—and the golden eggs of tomorrow are the jobs created by little men who dream of being big.

THE BELABOR PARTY

Today and Tomorrow

Past Experience Urged As Basis for Unifying Efforts of Various Service Arms.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE heads of the armed forces certainly ought not to be involved just now in the public discussion of the complicated and touchy problem of postwar military organization.

First they have two great wars to win. But they ought to feel assured that the problem is not going to be prejudged by the civilians at home while the military leaders are attending to our enemies.

Yet the problem cannot be disposed of by an agreement to say nothing about it. That is because the problem is likely to present itself in practical form before hostilities end, and is certain to present itself long before congress can hope to legislate for the permanent peace-time military establishment.

If the German war ends before the Japanese war, extremely important decisions will have to be taken on how to select and on how to combine the armed forces now deployed in two theaters of war for action in one theater. Then, when the Japanese war ends, decisions will have to be taken as to how to shrink these tremendous forces without destroying their efficiency, their esprit de corps and their hard-won experience.

For this reason I ventured the other day to raise some doubt as to whether the proponents of one homogeneous armed force are on the right track. My suggestion was that we begin to think about the question by remembering that we already have in existence and tested in battle at least one great combined armed force.

Navy's Role

We call it the navy, but as a matter of fact it is an integrated force of all arms under unified command. Besides the surface and submarine and auxiliary ships, the navy has in the marine corps an army of five divisions and 83 aviation squadrons; it has the coast guard which operates not only specialized warships and aircraft but has also the equivalent of foot soldiers and even cavalry; it has the famous Seabees, or construction battalions, a force of fighting engineers, which in itself, incidentally, is now almost as large as the whole regular army before the war. This "triphibious" navy is a going concern, and already has the very integration and unification which we are talking about.

The question which we must consider, it seems to me, is whether, in order to merge all our armed forces, we ought to begin by taking apart this great force which is already merged. My own view is that it may be much wiser to conserve it and, when the time comes, to reduce expenditures and shrink the armed forces, to keep this triphibious navy, which is oriented in the Pacific, as the core of the permanent establishment for the Pacific.

We ought to think not once but twice, and then again, before we do anything to impair this magnificent instrument of war with the great tradition which it now possesses.

Use Experience as Basis

If we approach the problem this way, with a view to conserving the unity and the experience we have gained, we shall find, I believe, that a very different kind of military organization has been evolved on the eastern and southern approaches to the United States. Here, too, a unity of command and an integration of forces has developed, of which the core is provided by the army ground and air forces.

My suggestion was that we deduce our plans of organization from our actual experience, instead of merging from the top down according to a symmetrical chart. Air Expert Alexander de Seversky finds this "as nonsensical as if we set up two unrelated federal administrations in Washington, one for the western half of the country, the other for the eastern half."

But who said the two establishments should be "unrelated"? I did not. I wrote that "it is scarcely necessary to say," though I should have said it twice for Seversky's benefit, "that though they were self-contained, above them both there could and still should be three joint chiefs of staff and many joint services of research, procurement and supply.

It goes without saying that if the joint chiefs are above the two establishments, they would have full power in peace or in war to reinforce one from the other, to set up strategic reserves interchangeable for both, and to make any dispositions which conditions require.

Unity Needed

The main consideration, it seems to me, is to promote the unity of the armed forces by developing the unity they have achieved, and thus to conserve their invaluable experience and their spirit. My dread is that with our national passion for neat blueprints of organizations, and impelled by the need to economize when the war is over, we shall find Congress making horizontal cuts and, in effect, dissolve in the name of efficient organization the living and fighting organism which has won the war.

It is not nonsensical to be concerned that this shall not happen. It has happened after every war we have ever fought. Nor is it nonsensical, I believe, to say that a nation which has its frontiers in two oceans as radically different in their geography and their politics as the Pacific and Atlantic, cannot be properly defended by one homogeneous, all-purpose armed force.

In the days to come we shall, let us hope, see that our armed forces and our foreign policy are designed to support one another, and if we think that we can organize them as if geography and politics did not enter into consideration, we shall, I believe, be making a great mistake.

Mining for a Diamond

By The Associated Press

HELENA, Mont. — Last summer Miss Nan Schubert lost a valuable diamond ring in Lake Helena. Friends marked the spot where she thought she lost it and eight months later, when the water was low, they dug for six hours. They washed the mud through an old bed screen and finally, out of the last shovelful, the diamond sparkled.

"I certainly admire your courage, Boss. For me, I'm ready to quit!"

That Salesgirl Argument

THIS column has had numerous letters from salesgirls and salesmen taking issue with the recent essay in which the customer is right and the clerk is wrong. The argument against the alleged customer is that the customer is always right and gets gracious, prompt service, even when the alleged customer is wrong as hell.

* * *

Well, the sales people miss the point completely. Customers have always been wrong. They have never been anything else but impatient, critical and hard on the help. But the salesgirl viewpoint used to be that she didn't care a whoop about a customer as long as she loaded her up with merchandise. The clerk's job was to sell goods, to run up the company sales totals and to keep the boss foremost. "I'm here to get business, not to babysit."

* * *

The salesgirl of yesterday knew her job was tough, and that it was no place for a lass easily aroused easily. She wanted to break down sales resistance. And what the customer broke over made no difference.

* * *

She could take it. And she took it with a smile. When the customer had been as great like a Christmas tree with stuff she didn't want, a salesgirl could relax and say, "Boy, that old battleax was tough going! She's a sourpuss, a hard-boiled egg and the crudest customer on my list. She must have got her manners in a barroom. But I should worry, I certainly unloaded her down with excess merchandise!"

* * *

This correspondent has seen salesgirls and salesmen do everything but wrestle with exasperating customers and still glory in the fact that the encounter has cost them only a few fazzled nerves while it cost the customer plenty of hard cash.

* * *

The public is never polite. For sales people to say they won't give the public the best service because the public is mean and exasperating is foolish. It would be just as sensible for a stage man to say: "I just won't bother putting on any good shows from now on. I don't like the manners of the public."

* * *

And why shouldn't the man on the flying trapeze in Ringling Brothers Circus refuse to do his stuff because the crowd in the aggregate at a circus doesn't show good breeding and refinement?

* * *

Come on, boys and girls! You can never be as ill-mannered as the public en masse. Don't try. Just get back to the essentials of good salesmanship. You owe it to the boss, anyhow. And you're so swell when you just show the customers up gallantly but silently.

No Time for Spring Fever

BY TRUMAN TWILL

There is no time for spring fever in 1944. Everybody is too busy to slump down in the sun on the back steps and spend an hour looking through narrowed eyelids at the busy ants on the sidewalk;

Or to stretch a hammock under a tree and spend the afternoon watching a pair of robins keep house, except when dozing off to wake up with a start when the petals from an apple blossom come swirling down on his face;

Or to wake up on a balmy morning, strangle the alarm clock and lie inert while taking deep gulps of the blossom perfumed air and successfully resisting the temptation to get up and be busy;

Or to shift from high gear into an aimless stroll beneath the leafy bowers and over the velvety grass, pausing now and then to examine a spring flower or to pinch off a blade of tender grass for rumination;

Or to stare out a window reminiscently and dream of the good old days when teachers used to open all the windows in the school room and let the young generation's thoughts drift away to fishing expeditions, games of baseball and the delicious prospect of escape after the closing bell;

Or to shut out all thoughts of grim news and stern duty and drift dreamily away on the tops of little fleecy clouds floating serenely away up there in the blue sky with only the birds and infinity for companionship;

Or to walk slowly hand in hand with the Only One, on and on and on to nowhere in particular, with nothing on earth to do on arrival except to turn around and come back;

Or to lean endlessly on a hitching post in front of the pool room and watch the world go by between puffs on an Omar, finding everything good, knowing that everything was right and having nothing in prospect but more of the same;

Or to drift serenely with the current down the river in a row-boat, putting in sometimes at this cove, sometimes at that one, in pursuit of nothing but happiness;

Or just to sit for hours on end listless, inert, lifeless, limp, vacuous and with no defense to it but a murmured, "Go away and leave me alone. I got spring fever and it feels so good!"

There is no time for it this year, but it's up high on the list of everybody's personal post-war plans.

WAR PRODUCTION THREATENED BY DRIVE TO UNIONIZE MANAGEMENT

★ The drive of union leaders to unionize management, beginning with foremen, is a threat to the war production effort.

★ It is a long step toward putting industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

★ What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

★ It raises an issue which congress must clarify by amending the necessary laws, including the War Labor Disputes Act.

★ Unless congress acts, this crisis will further obstruct an all-out war production effort.

The Automotive Council for War Production, representing 550 established companies employing 1,200,000 workers and delivering 20% of the nation's war production, has authorized its president, Alvan Macauley, to make the following public statement and send it to the President, other government officials, and all members of congress:

AT THIS most critical moment in history, on the eve of the great invasion of Europe which may settle the issue of human freedom for years to come, the public is entitled to know of a situation which threatens the success of that great effort.

The council has given careful consideration to the adverse effect on war production of the strike of foremen in the twelve plants of major war producers in the Detroit area and the still greater threat inherent in the organized drive to unionize management, beginning with foremen.

This is a long step toward putting industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

Successful business undertakings and great achievements depend on an organization responsive to the decision of those in charge. The commanding officers of production, like those of the army, must have their captains and lieutenants, their sergeants and corporals. Foremen, supervisors and managers are officers in the production army.

The division of their obligations and responsibilities between management and any outside organization will be just as disastrous to our war production front as outside organization of the army's officers to bargain and debate with their superiors would be at the battlefront. "No man can serve two masters."

The issue now is:

Can union leaders unionize management and take over control of war production?

Are their organizing drives for this purpose to be allowed to interfere with the efficiency and effectiveness of this production? Will they be allowed to disrupt American mass-production industry, one of the greatest assets of our country in both war and peace, by using it to experiment with a new and untried form of union-controlled management?

What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

If management is to be unionized, where is union control to stop?

This issue results directly from the fact that the federal laws and their administration are vague and confused in respect to the status of management.

In the interest of the war effort, we urge congress to make it clear that it does not intend to permit labor leaders to take over the management of our war production plants. This can and should be done immediately by clarifying and amending the necessary laws. Particularly the War Labor Disputes Act.

The automotive industry is not only producing a large part of our national armament output, but is also the largest manufacturing industry in peacetime; thus the nation is relying upon its prompt reconversion to provide jobs after victory.

The council was created by the industry immediately after Pearl Harbor to expedite in every possible way the industry's war production efforts. This included exchange of production equipment, knowledge of production methods, and efficient use of scarce materials and manpower. This industry has done an outstanding war production job.

The council has never intervened in the collective bargaining problems of employer-employee relations and there is no intention to depart from this practice.

Unless Congress acts, this crisis will further obstruct an all-out war production effort.

FOREMEN'S STRIKE HITS ENGINE PLANT

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 13 — One big war factory—Packard, makers of Rolls-Royce aircraft engines and PT-boat engines—stood idle today as the strike of 3,000 Detroit war plant foremen began to have more serious consequences.

The Packard Motor Car Co. plant was closed by the management last night virtually at the same hour the war labor board (WLB) declined to go on record with assurance to strikers that they would be protected from any management reprisals if they returned to work.

The Foreman's Association of America had demanded such assurance from WLB before resuming work, and Board Chairman William H. Davis limited himself to a promise that the board would inquire to determine the management attitude.

Davis said flatly that the board would accept no conditions from the union to ending the strike. WLB earlier had ordered the strike to cease before it would attempt to negotiate the dispute.

George T. Christopher, Packard president and general manager, said the company was forced to cease production because the army air forces had refused to accept Packard products in the absence of "inspection supervision to guarantee quality."

Companies affected by the strike, which has involved 13 plants, have refused to bargain with the foremen's organization over the grievances. The union, an independent, has been refused recognition as an appropriate bargaining unit by the national labor relations board, but affiliated foremen have been assured of protection under the Wagner act from discrimination because of union activities.

Germans Say Positions Change Hands in Italy

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 13—Berlin declared today that "several heights have changed hands several times" on the Italian battlefront, and that both sides are throwing in fresh forces in fighting "continually mounting in violence."

The Allies are using tanks in strong attacks "on a very large scale" along a front from east of the gulf of Gaeta to northwest of Cassino, the German communique said, with these blows supported by violent artillery fire and combat planes.

The heights reportedly changing hands were not identified.

Earlier, a Berlin radio commentator suggested the new Allied offensive "will prove only a diversionary operation" for another attack elsewhere in the peninsula.

He declared that "in all probability" the Allies would attempt a new amphibious landing somewhere on the west coast of Italy, possibly between the Fifth army's main front and the Anzio beachhead or immediately north of the beachhead.

In a Berlin broadcast the commentator asserted the Allies were holding in reserve five fully equipped divisions.

New Cross-Country Speed Record Is Set

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 13—A new transcontinental flight speed record—six hours, 31 minutes and 30 seconds set by Col. Clair Peterson in a sleek P-51 Mustang fighter plane carrying full battle equipment—was written into aviation annals today.

Peterson, a resident of Fargo, N. D., made the spectacular flight from Los Angeles to New York yesterday, arriving at LaGuardia field eight minutes before another Mustang, which had taken off from Los Angeles a minute ahead of him, landed.

The second plane was piloted by Lieut. Col. Jack H. Carter of Pasadena, Calif., whose time was six hours, 39 minutes and 30 seconds.

Allied Assault Testing Strategy of Forced Peace

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The great allied assault on Hitler's festung Europa at last is under way to determine how much wisdom there has been in his strategy of fighting a defensive war of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms.

The fuehrer is an unconscionable scoundrel, but his warped mind does at times exhibit unusual perspicacity in gauging the reactions of the humanity which he once hoped to enslave. So it has been with his gamble that some fortuitous circumstances might give him a break. He has, of course, long been fishing for peace, but the unconditional surrender demanded by the allies was more than he could take. So he rolled the dice.

Sure enough, advocates that unconditional surrender be abandoned are cropping up in this and other allied countries. Thus the Nazi dictator's much advertised intuition again has been right — up to a point. To just what point remains to be seen as armageddon unrolls.

Hull Reports No Change

Secretary of State Hull said earlier this week that, despite inquiries from nearly every continent, he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the unconditional surrender formula. There has been no indication either that the other allies have changed their minds.

It's true that America, Britain and Russia long ago told the axis satellites in almost so many words that terms would be made easier for them if they abandoned Hitler. And yesterday the Big Three came out flatly with a pre-invasion ultimatum to Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary that they must abandon Germany now or suffer "disastrous consequences."

I think a good deal of confusion has grown out of a misinterpretation of the term "unconditional surrender." It sounds tough, but it doesn't in itself carry any horrible penalties. It merely means that the victors will decide on the peace terms and are not prepared to bargain. The terms imposed may be very lenient or very harsh, but it is the victors and not the vanquished who say which it shall be.

The question of the satellites is, relatively speaking, not a matter of moment. However, the consensus of allied statesmen, military men and professional observers is that the allies will have failed in their chief war aims if they don't exact unconditional surrender from Germany and Japan.

Out To Destroy Nazism

We have sworn that Nazism and Prussian militarism shall be utterly destroyed in Germany, and that militarism shall be pulled up by the roots in Japan. We've sworn that the territories stolen by both countries shall be returned to their rightful owners. We've sworn to render both Germany and Japan utterly impotent militarily. We've sworn to punish war guilt.

How, say you, could we achieve all this unless unconditional surrender were exacted—unless we dictated the terms? Obviously it would be impossible. Thousands of our boys who already have made the great sacrifice, and other thousands who at this moment are girding themselves for the bloody beaches of D-day, would have fought for a will-o'-the-wisp.

The Germans are great on synthetic productions. The thing we've got to watch out for is that they don't put over a synthetic peace.

Still, while the allies propose to purge Germany and Japan (and the rest of 'em so far as they deserve), we have no intention of reverting to barbarism to do it. It's the allied purpose to help the defeated nations to become useful citizens in a decent world.

PRIEST TELLS REASON FOR TRIP TO RUSSIA

Tells Stalin He Wants American System in Poland.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 13 —Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski, Polish parish priest, said today he went to Moscow to tell Stalin that he wanted establishment "of an American system in Poland."

Father Orlemanski, who returned to his home today after a flying visit to the Russian capital, said he had no trouble in arranging an appointment with Stalin.

"I told them," he said at a press conference a few minutes after his arrival at the rectory of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary church of which he is pastor, "that if I did not see Stalin I would take the next plane back.

"I undertook this voyage to do something good. I belong to no party—no clique. I'm working for the Polish people."

Father Orlemanski said he was very tired and he planned to do nothing in the way of making any report on his trip for about a month.

"I went as a private citizen. Nevertheless I think my government is fully entitled to have a report from me on what I was doing in Moscow. And I expect to tell my government whom I saw, what was said and what I did."

Marion Aerial Gunner Now Prisoner of Nazis Awarded Silver Star Medal

Staff Sgt. Alton Baer, 20, now a German prisoner, is one of two Ohioans recently awarded the Silver Star medal, an Associated Press report from the war department announced today. He is the son of Mrs. Wilbur Coffey of 515 Avondale avenue.

The report stated, "While he was serving as tail gunner of a B-17 on a bombing mission over Germany, Oct. 14, 1943, after the bombing run, his aircraft was forced out of the formation with two disabled engines and was immediately attacked by enemy planes.

"The pilot dived the airplane to tree-top level in order to elude the enemy fighters but eight of them followed him down and continued to press their attacks viciously. Due to the fact that his plane was too close to the ground, the enemy concentrated their attacks on the tail position. Sgt. Baer remained at his guns and skillfully fought off the persistent, fierce assaults, probably destroying two enemy aircraft.

"The gallantry, skill and devotion to duty displayed by him on this occasion reflect highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

Sgt. Baer, reported missing after the Oct. 14 raid against Nazi ball-bearing factories at Schweinfurt, was reported a German prisoner in December of 1943. The following day his mother was presented on behalf of her son, an Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters by Lt. Donald Ryan, commanding officer of the pre-meterology school, Kenyon college, Gambier, O.

Mrs. Coffey said today that three letters have been received from Sgt. Baer. The most recent, dated Jan. 13, took almost three months to reach home. He assured his mother that he was well.

Sgt. Baer enlisted in December of 1942 and received training at Miami Beach, Fla., Lowry Field, Colo. and Delhart, Tex., where he received wings of an aerial gunner and his present rank. He visited his home in July, 1943, just before being ordered overseas.

Search at Dunkirk Quarry for Former Soldier Given Up

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., May 13 — Efforts of a professional diver from Toledo to locate the body of 22-year-old George Benjamin Hager of Dunkirk among debris in the bottom of the Dunkirk quarry pool proved futile today. Hager, a former soldier of the U. S. Army, has been missing from home since Tuesday night. Sheriff Randal R. Clark directed grappling operations for one whole day before deciding it was impractical. Over 30 pounds of dynamite were used in efforts to dislodge the body but no results were gained. A leaky steel boat which had been missing from the edge of the quarry was found partly submerged. It had been feared that Hager might have attempted to go fishing in the boat. Dunkirk residents have been instructed by Sheriff Clark to make periodic patrols of the pool should the body rise to the surface later.

The pool is 40 to 60 feet deep and is fed by icy spring water. Sections of iron pipe, old tram cars, and even growing trees that were submerged when the quarry was flooded line the bottom of the 50-acre pond near the landing wharf where Hager is believed to have gone down.

The youth has two brothers now in service. He received a medical discharge after serving in a medical unit at Camp Bowie, Texas, for six months.

Three possible solutions to Hager's disappearance have been offered. Searchers were working under the supposition that he might have been accidentally drowned or committed suicide in the pool. The remaining possibility is that he may have wandered away from home without any particular destination. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hager of Dunkirk, said that he had been missing once before.

ALUMINUM WORKERS JOIN STEEL UNION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 13 — The CIO-United Steelworkers of America has authorized at its biennial convention sessions the amalgamation of 30,000 CIO Aluminum Workers of America with its own approximately 900,000 members.

President Philip Murray explained the principal purpose of the merger is "to organize the unorganized in the aluminum industry." He told delegates aluminum "is a basic industry the same as steel, with substantially the same type of work and the same problems."

The president of the USW and the CIO declined comment on significance of the steel union entering a field in which there is a third CIO union, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The amalgamation resolution was approved yesterday by the delegates without a dissenting vote.

Murray said only such details as auditing the accounts of the aluminum union remain to be done toward completion of the merger.

The convention also voted salary increases from $4,320 to $6,000 for its 39 district directors.

Announcement of Congressman Martin Dies' (D-Texas) withdrawal as a candidate for re-election brought cheers from the delegates.

The house committee on un-American activities, of which Dies is chairman, currently is investigating the CIO political action committee.

Indorsement of Vice President Henry A. Wallace for renomination and reelection also was approved in a resolution. Earlier, the convention indorsed President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

Nationwide Poll Registers Views Of Voters on Trips of Mrs. Roosevelt

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 13 — Most of the people with whom I talked became very much excited and voluble on this subject. ... Almost everyone laughed heartily and enjoyed thinking up an answer. ... Everyone I talked to was interested and had a lot to say, one way or another."

The comments above are the personal reactions of field reporters for the Gallup poll when they asked voters to say what they think of the travels of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, which seem to have attracted more attention and inspired more comment than the travels of Marco Polo.

38 Per Cent Approve

For those interested in statistics alone, it can be noted that 38 per cent of those interviewed give comments indicating complete or qualified approval of the trips. Forty-five per cent indicate disapproval. Thirteen per cent say they do not feel that the First Lady's trips are any of their concern. Six per cent offer no comment.

Men are more inclined to disapprove of the trips than women. Fifty per cent of the men give comments indicating disapproval, 33 per cent approval. The women are about evenly divided in their attitudes, 40 per cent indicating approval, 39 per cent disapproval. Seventeen per cent of the men, 21 per cent of the women either give no comment or say the trips are none of their concern.

Variety of Comments

Far more interesting than any categorical analysis, however, are the comments themselves, revealing as they do the wide range of individual reaction to Mrs. Roosevelt's travels:

"Done a lot for morale; better than if she sat home at her knitting ... Show her courage and ability. ... Okay by me; she tries to encourage the boys in the service. ... Trips make the people feel Mrs. Roosevelt is one of them. ... All right with me, if she spends her own money. ... Marvelous! Wonderful! Great public relations! ... Boys seem to like it; feel sorry for the old boy in the White House, though."

"I don't think all this traipsing about is dignified ... Makes her look ridiculous when she gads about too much ... I'm bitterly opposed to her trips; it means she's not sacrificing the way we are. ... She's taking advantage of the war to go sightseeing. ... Unnecessary! Smacks too much of the royal family. ... If there is room on the trains and planes, lots of the boys would like to see their own wives, mothers, and sweethearts. ... Globaloney! ... Maybe the trips have political value to the President, but they're annoying to the average American. ... She'd better stay home like the rest of us."

BRICKER CONTINUES MID-WESTERN TOUR

By The Associated Press

OMAHA, May 13—Gov. Bricker of Ohio, continuing his western campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, called on the Roosevelt administration to "remove the unnecessary functions of government and give more attention to winning the war."

"The federal government should retire to productive industry hundreds of thousands of bureaucratic employes or send them to the armed services to help win the war," Bricker said in an address last night.

"If a Republican victory would injure the conduct of the war or delay victory, I wouldn't be out preaching for my party now. * * * I can't think of anything that would enhance the opportunity after victory in the war more than a Republican victory in November," he said.

Criticizing what he termed New Deal wastefulness, Bricker said government economy in money, manpower and paper was needed. The federal debt, the Ohioan declared, has risen from $156 per capita in 1932 to $1,300 at present.

Referring to tax money, Bricker inquired, 'have you ever wondered what, aside from the huge needs of the war and other legitimate needs, it is used for?" then he added, "Senator Hugh Butler (R-Neb) recently found out where some of it goes, but not the extent that the waste he charges is admitted by the spenders."

Bricker referred to Butler's report to congress, after a visit to 22 Latin-American nations, in which he charged the Roosevelt administration with wasteful expenditures and "boondoggling" in Latin-America.

The Ohio governor also asked eliminating of the "millions of New Deal propaganda pamphlets, the fourth-term publicity brochures, the seemingly endless, complex, mystifying, unnecessary and silly questionnaires and forms that are constantly flooding the country, consuming thousands of tons of valuable paper and wood pulp under the guise of essential government publications."

First German Prisoners Arrive from Front

By The Associated Press

WITH THE EIGHTH ARMY AT THE CASSINO FRONT, May 13—A thin trickle of German prisoners—surely youngsters and sour veterans of the Italian outpost of Hitler's European fortress—came back over the Rapido today as the fiercest battle of the Italian campaign raged over long stretches of the river.

The first allied sledgehammer blow, which included bridging the Rapido, left a somewhat disorganized mass of Germans hastily reforming and strengthening their formidable chain of caves and deep dugouts that make up the Gustav line at this point.

The first prisoners who came into the Eighth army cages behind the river were begrimed and hot. They threw themselves on the ground behind the barbed wire and dozed in the midday sun, seemingly oblivious to the cannonading.

MARION DEFEATS NEWARK TEAM 6-1, FOR SECOND VICTORY

Locals Within Game and a Half of Fifth Place in League.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

SUPPORTING a first rate pitching performance by Francis Bailey, slim right hander, with an almost errorless fielding game and a powerful 11-hit batting attack, Marion rolled up a 6 to 1 victory over Clay Bryant's Newark club at Lincoln park last night to move within a game and a half of fifth place in the Ohio State league standing.

Overcoming a one-run advantage gained by Newark in the first inning and maintained for three stanzas, the Marion team of Grover Hartley notched its second win of the season against six losses. This record puts the locals within two games of Newark, which suffered its fifth reverse last night and has totaled five wins

The Zanesville Dodgers maintained undisputed first place in the league from Lima with an 11 to 0 whitewashing of the Middletown Red Sox last night. Middletown now is in fifth place a half game behind Newark. Meanwhile, in the other State league affair last night, the Springfield Giants defeated Lima, 13 to 5, to go into a second place tie with the Red Birds of Cliff "Runt" Marr.

The 171 cash customers who witnessed last night's battle on the much-improved Lincoln diamond saw a suddenly revitalized Marion team plaster Bill Hasty, slender Newark right hand elbower, for 11 hits, including well-met two-baggers by Center Fielder Tom Hensby and Bob McDonald, consistent-clubbing shortstop. And the local team set a new season low in the number of errors committed in one game—making only one against the Newarkians. And this miscue, charged against Don McCaulsky, new third baseman, was near the hit-error borderline being a fairly difficult chance for a hot corner man.

Bailey Goes Well

Francis Bailey allowed Newark nine hits, masterfully scattered, struck out only three and walked a mere two. But the game he hurled was much more impressive than the sometimes inadequate records might indicate. On several occasions, Bailey found himself in a tight spot, with two or three men on base and a dangerous hitter at the plate. And, with the single exception of the very first inning, when Newark got to him for its only run and three hits, Bailey quelled the threat with almost marvelous "pressure" moundwork. He literally "curve balled" the Newark outfit to death. His hook was breaking sharply last night and he had excellent control of it. He displayed a good cross-fire pitch and a change of pace that kept Newark doing some costly guesswork.

Center Fielder Smith led off the Newark half of the first inning with a single. Friend, second baseman, then flied out to right field. Left Fielder Schoenberger singled, advancing Smith to second. Koppa, left hand batting Newark catcher, drove in his team's lone tally with a single into center field. The side was then retired as Pavlecic forced Koppa at second, Shortstop McDonald to George Whidden, second baseman, and Waychoff, third baseman, lifted an easily-handled fly ball to Warren Blunt in right field.

Marion was held hitless by Newark's Husty until the fourth inning, when the locals opened up for a run on two hits. McDonald started the frame, reaching first on an error by Waychoff, Big Marion Inning

Marion had its biggest inning in the fifth, when three runs were marked up on four hits. Whidden led off with a single, took second on another one-bagger by Blunt to left field. Hensby grounded to Second Baseman Friend who tagged Blunt out at second, but threw wild to first base. Whidden scored on the error and Hensby took second. McDonald applied the wood correctly for a single, which scored Hensby. McDonald ran to second on a throw home. Minnis flied to left. Hippie, who only Thursday came into the Marion fold from Hartford, Conn., drove in McDonald with a single for Marion's fourth run. Bellamy raised a fly to left field to end the inning.

The last inning in which any scores were racked up was the seventh, Marion getting two in this stanza. Hensby began with a long double, which hit the right field fence on the bounce. McDonald followed with another double, the game's second and final extra base hit. The Marion shortstop swung late on this ball, driving it into right field. Hensby scored with time to spare. Minnis popped out to third, and Hipple fanned. Catcher Joe Bellamy, promising backstop and reliable bat-wielder, then singled to score McDonald. He went to second on a throw by a Newark outfielder, who foolishly tried to catch McDonald at home instead of throwing to second. McCaulsky grounded out, third base to first.

Following is a summary of the Marion-Newark game and score by innings in the other State league games last night:

FERGUSON CALLS CAUCUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, May 13—Ohio's delegation to the national Democratic convention will meet here May 22, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, the state's "favorite son" candidate, announced late yesterday. Ferguson will be host at a dinner to be followed by a party caucus.

MARION, NEWARK IN ONE GAME TONIGHT, TWIN BILL TOMORROW

Sunday Doubleheader To Start at 1:30; Large Crowd Expected.

Marion's Ohio State league baseball club got back into the loop race by winning the three remaining games of the current series with the Newark Moundsmen. Tonight, the two teams meet at Lincoln park and tomorrow the first doubleheader of the season is slated to start at 1:30. That's asking a lot of any ball team but the way the local nine improved the last two times out, many fans wouldn't be a bit surprised if they did sweep all four games of the Newark series. Grover Hartley, Marion manager, says he probably will start Jack Van Wanning, a newcomer, on the mound against Newark. Clay Bryant, Newark manager has named Bob Evans, a right hander to go against Marion.

Tonight's twilight game will get under way at 6 o'clock, usual starting time. The doubleheader tomorrow starts promptly at 1:30 and will consist of two regulation nine-inning games. The biggest crowd since the turn out of 1,500 for the season opener with Lima, is expected for tomorrow's twin bill. Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the local team ends its current eight-day home stay with a three-game series with the tough Springfield Giants.

The Marion pitching corps, already bolstered by the presence of Van Wanning, was to get another pick up today with the arrival of two hurlers from Hartford, Conn.—Eric Shultz and Roche, both right handers. Another right hander, Joe Hill, is scheduled to be in town in time for tomorrow's crucial doubleheader.

A few sidelights on last night's series opener with Newark: Among the onlookers at the game was Jack Sheehan, Chicago Cubs scout . . . Some means by which the starting lineups can be announced to crowds witnessing Marion Ohio State league games may be furnished before the club ends its present home stand, Don Williamson, club attorney, had a megaphone all ready last night to blare out the lineups but decided to wait until tonight when Angelo, portly plate umpire himself gave the batteries. Using the megaphone seems to be the only possible solution, at the present time, to the problem of acquainting the fans with the players . . . Clay Bryant, former Chicago Cubs hurler and now Newark manager, demonstrated some fancy batting style before the game when he knocked out fungos and infield grounders . . . Grover Hartley showed he still can get around, even at 55, as he warmed up Pitcher Francis Bailey before the game and before one inning.

Indians Send Kleine Against Yanks Today

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 13 — Hal Kleine, Cleveland Indians hurler who defeated the league-leading St. Louis Browns a week ago, will start on the mound against the second-place New York Yankees today. He will be out after his second win in three starts.

The Yanks will use Joe Pace, a left-hander from their Newark farm, for the starting role.

In losing to Boston 10 to 3 the Tribe yesterday showed they still haven't been able to figure out Pete Fox, in all the years he has been with the major leagues. Fox collected four hits for a nine-hit total in the three-game series. Pat Seerey, Cleveland outfielder, equalled Fox's series score, but was held to a double and a single in the last game.

Pensive Attempts To Repeat Derby Win in Preakness

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, May 13—Pensive attempts today to make his Kentucky derby victory stick as he faces seven other three-year-olds for the richest Preakness purse in history.

Marion Wright's colt of Hyattsville, Md., will bid for the second leg of the triple crown and a second win for divisional honors against four thoroughbreds he whipped in the derby and two others.

A crowd of 35,000 or more was expected to pack Pimlico for the 54th running of Maryland's most famous contest for a blanket of black-eyed susans, the ancient Woodlawn vase and a winner's check for $60,710 out of a gross value of $80,210.

The weather forecast was fair and warm and the track was fast. Post-time was fixed at 5:05 p. m. (EWT).

Pensive was a slight favorite over George D. Widener's Platter, with Stir Up, the beaten derby favorite from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable, third choice. Platter passed up the derby.

Eddie Arcaro, who had no excuse for Stir Up after the derby, was seeking his second Preakness victory with the son of Stimulus for he was on Whirlaway when the money winning champion came home first.

Others named to go to postward were Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Slymie, Gay Bit, the stretch runner from the Bohanet stables of Baltimorean R. Bruce Lowe, A. C. Ernst's Alerter and Gramps Image.

Stengel Takes Over Where Grimes Left Off

By The Associated Press

If there were any skeptics who doubted Casey Stengel's ability to pick up where Charlie Grimm left off, they now must be near the point of conversion.

For the league-leading Milwaukee Brewers of the American association went into their first morning game of the season today with a record of nine straight victories, six since Stengel took over Grimm's managerial duties last Sunday.

They kept the winning streak alive yesterday by hammering Johnny Hutchings and Dave Odom of Minneapolis for 19 hits and a 16-3 triumph before 723 home town customers.

In other league activity, the second-place Columbus Redbirds, aided by an eight-run seventh inning, trounced St. Paul 10 to 3, Toledo walloped Minneapolis 17 to 4 and Kansas City edged out Louisville 4 to 3.

HORNETS STUNG 14-3

In a game of the Marion amateur baseball league at Harding stadium Thursday night, the Browne Blue Sox scored a 14 to 3 victory over the hapless Marion Hornets. The Sox now hold a comfortable first place lead. Winning battery was Bob Virden pitching and Dick Droilinger catching. Chuck Pace was losing hurler while Dave Boyles and Ralph Weber shared catching duties for the Hornets. Next league game is set for tomorrow afternoon at the stadium with the Hornets playing the Sox and the Harruff Barbs in a doubleheader.

TRAUTMAN HAPPY AFTER LOOP TOUR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 13 — George M. Trautman, president of the American association, returned today from a trip through the western half of the league and his spirit of optimism was something to behold.

"We're getting the weather now," he said, "and when we get the weather we get the crowds. There won't be anything to worry about."

Trautman, who visited St. Paul, Minneapolis and Milwaukee on his trip, said he found "tremendous enthusiasm" in St. Paul and Milwaukee. Minneapolis, he said, "is playing great ball."

The association prexy expressed belief attendance would pick up at Kansas City and about Indianapolis he said.

"They've been getting a lot of bad breaks but it's not as bad a ball club as that losing streak sounds. They'll get going."

The Indians now have lost 13 straight games and are only four defeats away from the league record of 17 consecutive setbacks which Kansas City set back in 1905.

Trautman also took occasion to bring out that the recent resignation of Owen J. (Ownie) Bush as Indianapolis manager completed the league's greatest one-year turnover of managers in his memory.

Nick Cullop of Columbus is the only one of eight 1943 managers who is holding the same job.

UPPER SANDUSKY WINS

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 13—Upper Sandusky High's trackmen, coached by Kenny Sampson, handed the Tiffin Columbian thinclads their first setback of the season, 50½ to 49½, in a dual track meet at Tiffin Thursday afternoon. Upper Sandusky tastes its next competition May 20 at the district track meet in Mansfield. Winners of this meet will qualify for the state finals in Columbus later this month.

BUCK TRACK TEAM LOSES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 13 — Paced by the brilliant Claude (Buddy) Young, the University of Illinois track team yesterday romped to a 73-44 victory over Ohio State. Illinois won 10 first places—Young's victory in the 100-yard dash and broad jump accounting for two of them—and tied for another. The Bucks scored a grand slam in the shot put, but Illinois made a clean sweep in the half-mile event.

Lanier, Series Hard Luck Guy, Now Tops Major Loop Hurlers

By The Associated Press

Max Lanier, the sharp-hitting southpaw of the 1943 World series, today ranks as the top pitcher of the major leagues with a record of seven wins and no defeats for the front-running St. Louis Cards.

Auburn Hank Borowy of the Yankees also is undefeated but Carol Thurmond Crabtree from Denton, N. C., has won the same number that the New York ace and rates the top spot by allowing only nine runs and 30 hits in 45 innings.

Lanier, who lost a 2-0 decision to Brooklyn's Whit Wyatt in the opener, has pitched 18 times in 33 games during his career.

After downing Pittsburgh opening day, 5-0, the Cardinals curver whipped Chicago and whipped Cincinnati before last night's seven-hitter against the Dodgers.

Nap Reyes continued to pull out the games with 47,501 paying to see the three after dark engagements to an aggregate of 13,957 for the daytime fixes.

The St. Louis Browns stopped Washington, 6-4, behind Bob Muncrief and went back into first place in the American because the Yankees were beaten by Detroit, 10-4.

Bobo Newsom was at his best before a "first night" audience of 10,768 at Philadelphia and ramed Chicago to five hits in blanking the A's to a 4-2 verdict.

Boston did its part in boosting the day's big league hit total to 170 by collecting 14 behind Tex Hugson in a 10-3 slaughter of Cleveland.

Mel Ott benched Ducky Medwick despite his .366 average and the New York Giants squeezed past Cincinnati, 5-3

Charley Schanz lifted the Phils into second place by trimming Chicago 9-3 and the Boston Braves reveled in their new-found batting punch by slugging Pittsburgh, 10-8

Rookie Bob Ferguson Faces Giants for Reds

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 13—Rookie Bob Ferguson pitches for the Cincinnati Reds today in the final of a four-game series with the New York Giants, opposed by Ace Adams, fugitive from last year's relief corps.

Both clubs floundered around yesterday and by the end of two hours and five minutes the Giants were on top, 5 to 3. Twenty-six players saw service and credit for winning the game went to Harry Feldman who gave way in the eighth to Adams.

Ed Huesser, who whipped the Giants three times without a loss last season, was the fall guy for the Reds, being lifted in the fourth.

Nap Reyes, sitting in for Ducky Medwick who was grounded for slow footwork afield, slammed out a home run with a mate on base in the second.

Taking place in occupied France, the story deals with a worthless and unmitigated scoundrel, played by Flynn, and a conscientious inspector of the French Surete, played by Paul Lukas.

For 13 years the inspector has pursued the criminal. As the story begins, Lukas has finally captured Flynn who will soon be guillotined. The criminal hears that 100 innocent Frenchmen have been taken as hostages by the Nazis and will be put to death in five days unless the saboteur who dynamited a small bridge loaded with German troops will give himself up. Willing to try anything to save himself from the inspector, the criminal proposes that the inspector turn him over to the Nazis, thus releasing the hundred men. After a severe mental struggle the inspector accedes to the request because he will be saving 100 worthwhile lives, sacrificing only one, completely worthless.

He places his own high reputation as well as the lives of 100 innocent Frenchmen into the slippery hands of an unscrupulous villian. Jean Sullivan plays the part of a young French peasant girl who falls in love with the criminal in his last three days of freedom and helps begin his regeneration.

Showing for four days starting Friday will be "Tampico" starring Edward G. Robinson, Lynn Bari and Victor McLaglen.

Robinson is the captain of a merchant marine oil tanker with McLaglen as his first mate. Miss Bari plays the part of a restless globe-trotting cigaret girl. The plot portrays the struggle of the merchant marine to supply our fighting forces with the vital oil and gas, and involves submarine attacks and Nazi hunts.

HARDIN COUNTY MAN IS KILLED IN ACTION

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 13—Sgt. Ronald M. Minter, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Minter of west of Kenton, was "killed in action in England" on April 26, the war department informed his parents yesterday. He left for overseas service only on March 9, 1944, and had been on several bombing missions as a top turret gunner on a Flying Fortress.

Sgt. Minter was born in Hardin county and was one of this county's first "state farmers" of the Future Farmers of America while an honor student in Dola high school. He sold his farm and farming equipment to enlist in the Army air force on May 4, 1942, and had been in 14 different Army camps in this country prior to departing for overseas service.

Surviving are his parents, a brother Dwight, and two sisters, Mrs. Lauren Eibling and Miss Virginia Minter.

The U. S. public health service advocates control of tuberculosis by mass X-ray tests of war workers and their families.

The speckled trout is really a charr.

MARJORIE MAIN AND WALLACE BEERY, above, are seen in "Rationing" showing Monday through Wednesday at the Palace theater.

Wallace Beery, Marjorie Main in "Rationing" on Palace Bill

Have Roles of Storekeeper and Postmistress; "Government Girl" To Start Thursday.

Beginning Sunday and playing through Wednesday at the Palace will be "Rationing," starring Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main supported by Donald Meek and Dorothy Morris.

Beery is the manager of the local store. Miss Main is the postmistress. Old sweethearts, they have been feuding with each other since their romance was broken up by a misunderstanding during World War I. Miss Main's daughter, played by Dorothy Morris, and Beery's adopted son, played by Tommy Batten, are in love. Further complications arise as Miss Main disapproves. When rationing comes in and makes life miserable for Beery, Miss Main is appointed to the rationing board. Consequently Beery has to be doubly sure his bookkeeping for the points is correct. Things go from bad to worse till Beery can stand it no longer. He goes to Washington to get into the army again. While he is gone the black market moves in and his butcher shop becomes the innocent instrument of the organization. When Beery returns from Washington, hopeful of getting a commisison in the Army, he receives a position on the board instead. Discovering the black market activities, he uses his new position on the ration board to investigate. Finally with the aid of the aroused townspeople he breaks the ring and things settle themselves happily.

Also in the play is Beery's real-life daughter, Carol Ann, appearing in her first movie.

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be "Government Girl" starring Olivia de Havilland, Sonny Tufts, Anne Shirley and Jess Barker.

Wartime Washington is the scene of this story of girls employed by the government there. Olivia de Havilland is secretary to Sonny Tufts, a new dollar-a-year-man. Tuft's job is to reorganize and speedup a lagging bomber building program. Tufts, encouraged by Miss Havilland, breaks a flock of rules and gets things done in phenomenal time. Because of his unorthodox methods, he makes many enemies and soon is called before a senate investigating committee where he learns that Miss de Havilland has unwittingly helped his opponents gather information against him. She makes a dramatic appearance before the committee that clears all complications. Anne Shirley is Miss de Havilland's roommate. Jess Barker is one of several rivals for the heroine's affections.

Simone Simon Picture Here

Starred with Kent Smith in One of Two Thrillers on Marion Screen.

Two blood curdlers are on a double bill at the Marion theater tonight to Sun. Monday. "The Curse of the Cat People" with Simone Simon and Kent Smith, and "The Lady and the Monster," featuring Richard Arlen, Vera Ralston and Erich Von Stroheim will be screened.

A sequel to "The Cat People", in which is told an ancient Serbian legend of women who turn into black leopards, the film deals with the strange life of a small child whose mother's life was lost because of the father's belief in the legend.

The mystery of the human brain is explained by a mad doctor in "The Lady and the Monster." Erich Von Stroheim, cast as the doctor, keeps his lovely ward, in the person of Vera Ralston, prisoner in an old lonely tower until the appearance of a young scientist.

"Slightly Terrific," starring Leon Errol and Anne Rooney, and "In Old Chicago," with Tyrone Power, Don Ameche and Alice Faye, will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story of "Slightly Terrific" concerns attempts of a group of earnest young entertainers to land their outfit on Broadway.

Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicks the lantern over again in the story of "In Old Chicago," the story of life in the midwestern metropolis when it was still suffering from early growing pains.

Thursday through Saturday "Wintertime," with Sonja Henie, Jack Oakie, Cesar Romero and Carole Landis, and "The Vigilantes Ride," with Russell Hayden and Bob Wills, will be the features.

"Wintertime" brings the famed ice skater, Sonja Henie to the screen again. The story deals with the efforts of a young Canadian resort operator to bring a famous Norwegian and his attractive niece to the hotel to lure vacationists.

Approximately 173,000,000 square feet of pierced steel airplane landing mats have been shipped from the U. S. to combat areas since Pearl Harbor.

Balanced Diet

I DON'T SUPPOSE from the success I've had in telling that I am dead against eating anything other than a balanced diet. A balanced diet should include in some meal of the day (1) a fresh fruit (preferably orange, grapefruit, lemon or lime juice (2) an animal protein—milk, eggs, meat (3) a cereal or grain, oatmeal, rice or bread (4) one or two vegetables one preferably green or pigmented which means a choice of pea, bean, carrots, asparagus, cabbage, potato, spinach, celery, onions, corn, soybean, tomatoes, etc. (5) roughage—from fruit pulp, vegetable fiber, celery, salad.

If you eat one of each item you will get all the vitamins, minerals and protein building and replacement material you can use. You will probably get all the calories—calories—you need but if not this is easy to remedy by adding those articles that man's ingenuity and industry has perfected for this purpose—sugar and butter and salad dressing and jellies and dessert and extra helpings.

Now there's nothing darkly wise or inspirational about this list. It is common custom. It is what most of you, I hope, have been eating every day all your life. You could hardly sit down to three meals any day anywhere in any North American city without having a representative of each group offered you. Dietetics as a science did not evolve a formula out of an experimental laboratory. It found healthy men eating certain groups of foods and by experimental scientific methods showed why they were healthy and why the combination made a balanced diet. Man didn't learn to eat properly from the science of dietetics. Dietetics learned from man what was proper to eat.

This is the balanced diet used by man in a state of civilization where agriculture and industry and transportation bring all sorts of foods, this side all the year round. But in these troublous times of possible food shortages of popular demand one wonders whether this list can be curtailed or contracted.

Are there any complete foods? Can man live on a single article of diet? If so what are those single complete articles of diet?

Again the answer to this question is found in Nature not the experiment laboratory. Some
